Dear Club President,

Our Second Annual Federation Fun Night will be held on February 10th at the clubhouse of the Woman's Club of Arcadia, 324 S. First Avenue, Arcadia. We have planned this as an evening affair so that our Juniors and the women of clubs that meet in the evening or have evening sections can join with us for an evening of fun.

Please plan for an act to amaze and amuse everyone. It could be an instrumental or vocal number - solo or a group, or perhaps a dance, skit or monologue. Husbands are most welcome to take part. (Don't tell them, but they steal the show!) We don't expect a professional act; in fact the cornier the better. It is so much more fun when every club takes part.

We will have social hour at 6:00 P.M., and wine will be available. There will be a really good dinner at 7:00 P.M., and the home-grown talent show will follow. Dinner will be $7.00 and the wine 75¢ a glass.

Please register your club's act with Thelma Clark, 1127½ Pine Street, South Pasadena, 91030, (213) 256-7010. Send your prepaid reservations to Yvette Shannon, 8814 E. Fairview, San Gabriel, 91775. Both should be in by February 3rd.

Plan now to leave your calendars free, and come join us for an evening of fun. Friends and husbands are most welcome. Why not get up a carpool since some ladies don't like to go out at night alone? We are looking forward to seeing you all there on February 10th.

If you want any more information, please call me at (818) 247-7377. You can call anytime up to midnight.

Sincerely,

Bernice

Writers discuss books at Authors' Luncheon

From comedy to high finance to a hair-raising race to mine minerals on the ocean floor, variety was the name of the game at the annual "Meet the Authors" luncheon at the Arcadia Woman's Club on March 28. Three authors, Oaky Miller, Tim Piering and Mary Dorr Gordon, read exerpts and discussed their books before an appreciative audience.

Lu Milner, chairwoman of the day, introduced the club's president, Alice Del Rey, the Literature Division chairwoman, Harriette Patterson, and Adrienne Harper, Arcadia Juniors representative, who acted as mistress of ceremonies for the program.

Following a luncheon of chicken crepes, salad and homemade cakes, the authors were presented.

OAKY MILLER

A comedian, actor and writer of comedy routines, Oaky Miller's main theme is "You don't know how unlucky I am," reminiscent of another famous comic, Rodney Dangerfield, and his "I don't get no respect."

He spoke of working in Las Vegas, in Hollywood and for various shows on television, such as the Ozzie and Harriet Show, "That Girl" with Marlo Thomas, and many more. He also has worked on several movies, including his debut in "Valley of the Dolls."

He spoke briefly about his book, "The World's Worst Country and Western Jokes," and said he is currently writing for a movie on Vietnam.

Looking almost impossibly youthful for his stated age, 47, Miller said he runs five miles a day and sleeps only about four hours a night. He said that it is important to his "image" as a performer to keep himself in shape.

TIM PIERING

A resident of Sierra Madre, Tim Piering enthusiastically described his book, "Breaking Free to Mental and Financial Independence," as "a compilation of 10 years worth of work."

Piering had been employed at Parsons Co. for eight years and had a hobby of restoring old houses. He decided to work for himself and formed his own real estate firm, continuing his hobby by restoring an old Victorian house.

He spoke of how to "collapse time frames," getting done in a month what usually takes a year. "Time isn't a continuum, like a yardstick," he said, "You should start thinking of the 'right now.' Too many people let the 'right now' pass, they'd rather put it off until tomorrow.

"If you'd live in the question, rather than the answer, you'd be more successful," he said.

Other suggestions for mental independence that Piering gives in radio and television "coaching" include putting the past to bed and injecting enthusiasm into life. He believes in taking bold action in the face of fear, or as he said, "taking action in spite of that 'little voice in your ear.' "

Piering spoke briefly of his formulas for successful financial action, and mentioned that he has cassettes available for implementing his high energy, action oriented program.

MARY DORR GORDON

Mary Dorr Gordon, an author in her own right and second wife of Gordon Gordon, former FBI counterintelligence agent and author of many best-selling espionage novels, apologized for the absence of her husband, who was home with the flu.

While on her honeymoon in Hawaii with Gordon, she saw a strange-looking ship in the harbor, which turned out to be a Russian undersea mining ship. This motivated the Gordons to begin re-

Woman's Club plans Fun Night

The Woman's Club of Arcadia has planned a "Fun Night" on Monday, Feb. 10, at the clubhouse, 324 S. First Ave., Arcadia. The event is hosted by the California Federation of Woman's Clubs and is planned as an evening event so that Juniors and members of clubs that meet in the evening or that have evening sections will be able to join the day clubs in an evening of fun.

Every participating club is being asked to submit an act to entertain everyone. It can be an instrumental or vocal number, solo or group — "the cornier the better," according La Verne Milam of the Arcadia club.

The social hour will begin at 6 p.m. and wine will be available. Dinner will be served at 7 p.m. and the home-grown talent show will follow. Cost for the dinner is $7.

Clubs are asked to register their acts with Thelma Clark, 1127½ Pine St., South Pasadena 91030, or call (213) 256-7010. Prepaid reservations for the event should be sent to Yvette Shammon, 8814 E. Fairview, San Gabriel Calif., 91775. Both should be in by Feb. 3.

The Arcadia club also has scheduled its annual Day at the Races on Thursday, Feb. 13, on the Clubhouse Terrace at Santa Anita. Chris Mallon, chairwoman, invites members and guests to contact her for tickets at 446-1096.
